

CALL FOR AWARDING RESEARCH FELLOWSHIPS WITHIN PROJECT GRANTS AND R&D INSTITUTIONS

1 (one) Research Fellowship (BI) for a PhD Student

1 Research Fellowship(s) (BI) is(are) open at the FCiências.ID – Associação para a Investigação e Desenvolvimento de Ciências, for the project “Compound extremes in Mediterranean temperature, wind and wildfires”, financed by Own funding for the development of R&D projects, under the following conditions:

1. Scientific Area: Earth Sciences
2. Requirements for admission: Bachelor's degree in Statistics, Mathematics, Environmental Engineering, Oceanography and Geophysics or similar areas, and Master's degree in Statistics, Environmental Engineering or similar areas.
3. Additional optional skills and qualifications: Programming experience in R/RStudio, Matlab, Mathematica or Python. Experience with modelling data using copulas will be relevant. A published paper in this area will be highly appreciated.
4. Contracting requirements: Presentation of the academic qualifications and/or diplomas. Enrolment in PhD programme.
5. Work plan: The Mediterranean region is prone to frequent extreme events, like droughts and heatwaves that increase the risk of wildfires. When occurring concurrently or sequentially, such extreme events may amplify the associated impacts. Several recent wildfires were characterized by concurrent extreme high temperatures and strong winds, namely the events of October 2017 in Portugal where fires concurred with the winds associated to the passage of the Ophelia storm. One of the interactions which is still a challenge is the joint occurrence of heatwaves, intense windspeed and fires. The complexity of these interactions requires sophisticated methodologies such as copula models. The purpose of this work is to use vine copula models for describing the joint association between temperature, wind speed and the energy released by wildfires (Fire Radiative Energy), as obtained from the Fire Radiative Power retrieved from satellites. Interest focuses on analyzing the joint behavior of these three variables. This study also aims to compare the behavior of Portugal with some of the countries of the Mediterranean basin in what concerns the three variables mentioned above. A publication in an international journal of the area are the expected outputs.
6. Legislation framework: Research Fellowship Holder Statute, in accordance with Law 40/2004, of 18 August, in its current version and the FCT Regulation for Research Studentships and Fellowships, in its current version (Reg. 950/2019 published in DR on 16th December: <https://dre.pt/application/file/a/127230968>, or at the FCT website: <https://www.fct.pt/apoios/bolsas/regulamento.phtml.pt>), and FCiências.ID Fellowship Regulation, as approved on 12th May 2020 (available at Regulamento de Bolsas de Investigação Científica da FCiências.ID).
7. Place of work: The work will be developed at the Centro de Estatística e Aplicações da Universidade de Lisboa and Instituto Dom Luiz, Faculty of Sciences of the University of Lisbon under the scientific supervision of Professor(s) Patrícia de Zea Bermudez (supervisor) and Célia Gouveia (co-supervisor).
8. Fellowship duration: This position is initially opened for 6 months months due to start in March 2024. The fellowship contract may be potentially renewed for 3 months.
