

Join us this autumn for the first ever

PERMACULTURE RESEARCH DESIGN COURSE

transdisciplinary • participatory • action-oriented • systems-based

October 9 - 13, 2016 in Vale da Lama, Portugal

at Quinta do Vale da Lama (Campo do Vale)

Topics include

- History and current state of permaculture research
- Developing a shared research agenda
- Monitoring and documentation
- Practical and integrative methods
- Developing practitioner research networks
- Designing action-research partnerships

This course features

- Guest presenters leading the emerging field of permaculture research
- Participatory curriculum with experienced facilitators
- Multidisciplinary methods practicum
- Research design practicum with group or individual design projects.

Principal instructors

Rafter Sass Ferguson, PhD. liberationecology.org

Gil Penha-Lopes, PhD. <http://ce3c.ciencias.ulisboa.pt/penha-lopes>

Hugo Oliveira. <http://www.orladesign.org/>

This course is perfect for professional researchers, inspired practitioners, graduate students, extension agents, and others. Prior Permaculture Design Course is required.

For more information go to <https://goo.gl/fmHeLZ>

